ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Establishing and adhering to a realistic admissions policy is essential to the quality MAHARIFA THEOLOGICAL BIBLE UNIVERSITY. Two major questions must be faced: What level of development is the student assumed to have at entry? And what level of development is expected of the graduate to be effective? The answers to these questions are based on considerations of character, academics, general factors, and expectations.

Character

Christian character and the practical Christian experience of the applicant are important to the success of M.T.B.U. The following are some requirements the conscientious M.T.B.U should consider:

- All persons accepted included born again experience.
- A sense of the call of God to ministry.
- Clear commitment to the doctrines and practices of the church.
- Our goal is to build a spiritual maturity and ensure the knowledge within Theological studies, and this emerges responsibilities to the potential students—all attested to by a pastor.
- Some experience in Christian service attested to by a pastor.

General Factors

A number of general factors which relate neither to character nor academics, but which are nonetheless important to specify in admission requirements, are as follows:

- Entrance exams: These are especially important if admission is allowed on equivalence. Equivalence admission should not be the norm.

- Physical health: The school can avoid serious problems by requiring a health history from the applicant and a medical exam by a competent medical authority.
- Financial ability: The administration would be wise to have the attestation of someone such as the applicant's pastor that the applicant is prepared to pay his or her part of the school costs.

Expectations

Admission requirements must be reasonably close to expectations of the graduates. The process takes three steps:

1. The graduation requirements should be set.
2. The lowest level of the applicant should be estimated.
3. An education of sufficient duration to raise the lowest applicants to the desired level should be provided.
